THE HARD CASE OF JAPAN.

BY HENRY NORMAN, M.P.

Japan, "the child of the world's old age," has had a sufficiently—perhaps a surfeit—of admiration. The sentiment she stands more in need of at the present time is sympathy. She has made marvellous progress; she has entered the comity of nations and conducted herself there with perfect dignity and propriety; her Army and Navy, in organisation, administration, material and personnel, are in the first rank; her finance since she adopted a gold standard has been irreproachable; her manufactures, trade, and shipping are all prosperous; as a Power she has shown herself strong, straightforward and peace-loving. She has done everything to deserve good fortune.

Happiness, however, as we know, "is coy, and will not come to all who bend the knee," and fate has acted to the despite of Japan with almost paralysing persistence. Korea is at once the natural outlet of her commerce and population and the key to her national security. She had to fight China for it, beat her handsomely, took a fair share of the spoils of war, and was promptly deprived of them by an irresistible combination of European Powers. Not only that, but by the movements of the pieces on the European chessboard what was taken from her passed almost immediately to her most dangerous rival and neighbour, which has consolidated and expanded till once more she is face to face with the dilemma of losing Korea or fighting for it. Again, Japan looked legitimately to the possession of the Philippine Islands when Spain should relinquish or lose them. Fate precipitated events which placed these, possibly for ever, beyond her reach. Once more Japan was confident that in the future it would fall to her, by right of geographical interest and race-knowledge, to educate China and lead her along the lines of Western progress, the conflicting claims and jealousies of the European Powers, as she believed, preventing one of them from becoming predominant there. She did not foresee the accomplished pushfulness of Russia nor the fatality of British policy. So that hope, too, has apparently vanished.

To come to the events of to-day, the Japanese Government achieved what it believed to be a great success by the alliance with England. This was to strengthen Japan's hands and secure her safety. It is at the present moment having precisely the contrary effect, for now that she is weighing in deep anxiety the considerations which should lead her to fight or not to fight Russia, the whole vast influence of her ally is naturally brought to bear to induce her not to fight, whatever her own interests may dictate. On the other hand, the alliance gives her little or no counteradvantage, for England is only bound to intervene if France joins Russia, and this she would virtually have been compelled to do in any case. Therefore for Japan the British alliance is positively a source of weakness—like the soft hands of woman in Mr. Kipling's poem, it—

Clings to the hilt of the rein,
Strikes the spur from the booted heel.
The disappointment and resentment of the Japanese people when they realise this will be a factor in their foreign politics. It was apparently not foreseen by any of those in our own country who welcomed so enthusiastically the conclusion of the alliance.

But the hardest part of Japan's hard case is her situation vis a vis Russia at the present moment. What has been foreseen so long by herself and by her friends for her has now come to pass; the arrival of the day when she must decide whether or not she will fight Russia—that is, when her whole future is vitally at stake. Her programmes of naval and military expansion are practically complete; she will never be relatively stronger than she is to-day. In case of war with Russia she would have every hope of securing quickly the command of the sea. This would be tantamount to victory, for she could then take her own time over any other steps; prepare and launch expedition after expedition at vulnerable points; and rely confidently on a breakdown of Russia's land communication with the Far East, whether by reason of mere railway failure or of the railway being destroyed at various points by the Chinese. This relative superiority will not last much longer; powerful Russian naval reinforcements are already on their way to Chinese waters; in a few months the potential command of the sea will not be hers. Merely on a calculation of chances, a Japanese Bismarck would decide to strike now. That Russia is moving slowly but surely upon Korea is certain; that an independent Korea, or a Korea controlled by Japan, is a matter of life and death to Japan is equally certain; every week that passes diminishes Japan's chance of victory. Why, then, does she not strike?

It is hard to say, but some of the considerations which must be weighing with her are obvious. In the first place, the decision she is called upon to make is one of appalling difficulty. Nothing less than her permanent existence as an independent nation is at stake. If she were badly beaten, then, sooner or later, unless Russia herself were badly beaten in a war elsewhere, Japan would come under Russian influence, and her future place would be in the shadow instead of in the sun. Second, England, her ally, is holding her back. Third, she is probably disappointed to find that she can expect no help from England.

The conditions precedent to the operation of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance are (1) that Japan should be "threatened by the aggressive action" of Russia, and the latter is naturally careful to take no step which could rightly be so regarded; and (2) that some "other Power or Powers should join in hostilities" against her, and Russia will not ask France to do this, nor would France do it if asked. Fourth, while Japan is probably under no illusion concerning any help from the United States, she is doubtless watching carefully the execution of Manchuria and the opening of treaty ports there, in the belief, perhaps not wholly unjustified, that if Russia shows that she is playing a crooked game in this matter American public opinion, which has always rather a low flash-point, might take fire. Finally, Japan is doubtless still not without hope that after all Russia will not push matters to an extremity, but that some arrangement satisfactory to both parties may yet be concluded.

One night, when travelling in a wild country, I was awakened by a heavy snuffing at the back of my tent, and I quickly became aware that some large wild animal was nuzzling around, and in a moment would be at the open tent door. Was it a tiger—and if so, what should I do? I lay perfectly still, with my finger on the trigger of my rifle, intently watching the faint triangular space. It was a tiger, and it came and stood at the door, snuffing uneasily. The problem was—should I fire, or wait? If I fired under such circumstances I might easily miss, and then I should never have lived to hear Mr. Chamberlain explain the difference between arguments and figures. On the other hand, if I waited the tiger might spring, and then it would be too late to shoot. I waited—for perhaps half a minute, which seemed like an hour—and then the tiger, apparently thinking the situation too mysterious to be safe—walked away.

It seems to me that the situation of Japan is precisely similar. Her finger is on the trigger, and the Bear is looking in at the door. If she fires she may be destroyed; if she waits she may be destroyed. Personally, I believe she will wait till what she thinks is the fifty-ninth second of the eleventh hour. But it must be agreed that hers is a hard case, and that deep sympathy with her should be the sentiment of all her friends.—Westminster Gazette.

A FEW days ago the preliminary trial took place of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha's new Australian liner Nikkomaru, the construction of which has just been completed by the Mitsui Bishi firm at Nagasaki. AT the conclusion of Monday's sitting in the Supao case the Assessor remarked that he was awaiting instructions from the Chinese authorities and in the event of those not coming to hand within a reasonable period, it would be the duty of the Court to dismiss the case. Two of the accused would be released in the meanwhile, as soon as the order was drawn up. When the Mixed Court adjourned that morning two letters written in Chinese characters were handed the magistrates. They were not read and were thrown back to those who presented them.—Shanghai Mercury.

A SPECIAL cablegram to the Times of India dated Sydney, November 23rd, says:—The match between Warner's team and New South Wales was concluded at 2.30 p.m. to-day, the Englishmen winning easily. The colonials' first innings had realised 108, and the English team responded with 319, leaving the former 211 to get to avoid an innings' defeat. New South Wales could only run up 20, thus losing by an innings and to runs. For Warner's team, the bowling analysis in New South Wales's second innings was—Brand, 2 wickets for 13 runs; Bosanquet, 4 wickets for 60 runs; Hirst, 2 wickets for 35 runs; and Arnold, 2 wickets for 62 runs.

IN the collection of precious stones secured on loan to be sent to the St. Louis Exhibition are several very valuable Ceylon gems, the most interesting of which is a yellow sapphire set in a Ratanapora gem merchant and valued at Rs. 40,000. THE Russian General Ragdasovitch has offered the sum of $15,000 to purchase the relics of St. Nicholas, which are worshipped throughout Russia. They are now the property of the famous cathedral at Bari, Italy, which was visited by the Czar in 1892. The authenticity of the relics is disputed, Venice claiming to have the bones of St. Nicholas. The Russians, however, believe the relics at Bari to be genuine.

MORE than forty years have passed since the first team of English cricketers went out to Australia. One of its members, William Caffyn (Surrey), is still in the land of the living, and a couple of years ago he published his reminiscences under the title of "Seventy-One, Not Out." The bringing out of the first "All England Eleven" to Australia in 1861 was a private speculation on the part of Messrs. Spiers and Pond, who were then the proprietors of a popular restaurant in the main thoroughfare of Melbourne, and had drawn certain shrewd deductions from the crowds they saw on the local cricket grounds.

A WELL-KNOWN Russian traveller who has just arrived in London from the Far East, by way of Canada, tells the correspondent of a home paper that an erroneous idea seems to be entertained there as to the progress of the Siberian railroad. Over fourteen hundred miles of line have yet to be constructed, and there are several breaks presenting such enormous engineering difficulties that it will take years to link them up. Moreover, he adds, it is evident to an expert that, owing to the severity of the climate and the amateur way in which the work has been done, much of the line in Central Siberia will have to be entirely relaid.

"RITA" is poking her pen into the "smart" set, and recently in the Gentlewoman she criticises the language heard at restaurants, in the stalls of the theatres, the grand stands of race-courses, and the fashionable women's clubs. She has picked up a small vocabulary of "smart" slang. "Two-est" means "dearest," and "diskie" is "disgusting." A Royal personage is called a "man-man," with, no doubt, a glance at Mr. Shaw's superman. Things that are expensive are "expie," a teagown is a "teagie," and the meaning of a "nightie" scarcely needs the explanation. But "Rita" shrinks from the interpretation of "undies" and "cossies," placing opposite only a mark of interrogation.

A CHANGSHA, capital of Hunan province, dispatch received at Shanghai states that an effort is to be made by malcontents of that province to restore the Ming, or last Chinese dynasty previous to the present Manchou one, which ousted it during the seventeenth century, and that a secret society has been formed called the Kuangfu Hui, or Society for the Restoration of the Light; that is to say, the members wish the Ming, or Brilliant Dynasty, to be restored. Already the society has a membership of nearly two thousand, although only a couple of months old, so disgusted are the people in many of the provinces at the weakness and procrastinating policy of the Manchus. The chief of the society is a man of the surname of Chu—the surname of the Ming dynasty Imperial House—and he claims to be a lineal descendant of the Emperors whose dynasty he wishes to restore. It is further alleged that unlike many other existing secret societies in the Empire, the majority of the members of the new society are well off and educated men. There is also a report that several leaders of the Kwangsi rebel, who have been investing the Imperial claims of the Chief of the Kuangfu Hui, are satisfied that he is what he claims and are preparing to cross over into the Hunan borders for his assistance. This, it is believed, will greatly complicate the crisis in the South.

H. M. BATTLESHIP Vengeance arrived from Kobe this morning.

THE fact that so large a part of lower Siam is flooded with water to an unusual depth, does not seem as a rule to have damaged the paddy crop. It has kept pace in growing with the rise of the water, and the result should be an unusually good crop. It is very possible, however, that the flood will be unusually late in falling, and in that case the difficulty already experienced in rearing and drying the ears will be general. The depth of the flood is said to be two feet greater than the record of 1893. Many buffaloes are dying because for some time now there has been no place for them to stay that is not under water. Over large tracts of the country the people are having to live as near the roofs of their houses as possible and life is far from comfortable in such cases. A number of people have been buried on the railway embankment, as being the only place available along the line at present.

THE Saigon Opinion gives details of a circular just issued by the Government there to the effect that all officials who smoke opium to the extent of weakening their minds will be sent back to France. People in France are sympathetic, and think this hard, but the Opinion points out that opium-smoking officials are utterly useless. The drug, our contemporary informs us, renders them listless and heedless, and deprives them of all sense of duty. In view of this exposure, says the Straits Times, our local reformers may well demand why some similar circular is not forthwith issued by the Government of these Settlements. Can it be that our local revenues depend to such an extent upon the income derived from the Opium Farm that the high officials fear to protect themselves and their subordinates from the dominance of "dope," lest they thereby offend the Farmer?

THE Admiralty have directed three new armoured cruisers of the first-class to be built for the Royal Navy by contract, to bear the names of Achilles, Cochrane and Natal. They have been designed by Mr. P. Watts, Director of Naval Construction, and will have a length of 480 ft., and a displacement of 13,550 tons. The engines will show a capacity 23,500 h.p., to give a speed of 22.33 knots. The Achilles will be built at Newcastle, by Messrs. Armstrong, Whitworth and Co., the Cochrane at Govan (N.B.), by the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company; and the Natal at Barrow-in-Furness, by Messrs. Vickers, Sons, and Maxim. Each ship is to mount six 9.2 in. and ten 6 in. breechloading guns, and twenty-eight quick-firers. Four new 25-knot Scouts are also to be built for the Royal Navy, and are to be named the Alertive, Foresight, Patrol, and Skirmisher. They will each be equipped with ten 12-pounder quickfiring guns. The Alertive will be built at Newcastle, the Foresight at Govan, the Patrol at Birkenhead, and the Skirmisher at Barrow-in-Furness.

THE CLAIM FOR $40,000.

CASE FOR THE DEFENCE.

The further hearing of the case in which Tso Cheung Shi, a widow, residing at 162 Queen's Road West, suing as executrix of Tsoi Heung Po, deceased, is proceeding against To Shing, a trader, of 22 Peel Street, to recover the sum of $28,000 money received, and $12,000 damages, was proceeded with before the Chief Justice (Sir W. M. Goodman) at the Supreme Court this morning.

The Hon. H. E. Pollock, K.C., instructed by Mr. F. B. L. Bowley, of Messrs. Dennys and Dowley, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. M. W. Slade, instructed by Mr. C. A. H. Beavis, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, represented the defendant.

In placing his case before the Court, Mr. Slade said he thought the defence was fairly and fully set up in the pleadings. Plaintiff claimed under an agreement with the defendant, and the main defence was that, although the document was in Tsoi Heung Po's own name, yet it was not made by him on his own behalf, but as a partner, trustee, or agent in Piry and Company. The matter, however, was very clearly set out in the statement of defence, the third paragraph of which stated:—The defendant says that some time in January 1901, one Henry Piry, a member of the firm of H. Piry and Company, in which firm Tsoi Heung Po deceased, the said Chan Yuk Shang and one Tse Ching Po were also partners, ordered the defendant to build two steamships for the said firm at the prices of about $38,000 and $30,000, respectively, and directed the defendant to settle all details with the said Chan Yuk Shang.

(4)—The defendant accordingly prepared specifications for the two ships whereby he offered to complete the work set forth in the said specifications in nine and eight months from the respective dates of the said specifications on payment of the sums of $38,000 and $30,000 respectively, and the said specifications were finally agreed to by the said firm of H. Piry and Company on or about the 10th February and the 27th April, 1901, respectively. (5)—Shortly after the first of the said specifications was agreed to, the defendant commenced to build the said steamships and was paid in various sums and at various times between the 27th February and the 5th October, 1901, by the said firm and out of the monies of the said firm the sum of $51,410 in respect of the work done on the said steamships. The defendant denies that the said sums were all received by him from the said Chan Yuk Shang as alleged in the statement of claim. (6)—The defendant denies that in any of the transactions in the statement of claim mentioned the said Chan Yuk Shang was acting as agent for the said Tsoi Heung Po except in so far as the said Chan Yuk Shang was agent for the said firm of H. Piry and Company. (7)—In the beginning of the month of October 1901, the payments due from the said firm for work done on the said steamships were much in arrears and the defendant was informed by the said Chan Yuk Shang that the said Tsoi Heung Po deceased had agreed to advance to the said firm the money necessary to complete the said steamships if a formal agreement to build the said launches were entered into by the defendant, and the defendant thereupon agreed to enter into such a formal agreement with the said Tsoi Heung Po deceased. Commenting on the last paragraph, Mr. Slade said it appeared in the evidence that, although they commenced to build the launches in February and April, there was no written agreement at all, the only specifications being drawn up by the builder and not signed by any of the parties. It was then arranged that a formal agreement should be entered into, and Tsoi Heung Po thereupon agreed to advance the money necessary to complete the steamships. Proceeding, to read from the statement of defence: (8)—The defendant accordingly executed the agreement set out in paragraph 7 of the statement of claim, but says he did not understand the meaning of the recitals in the said agreement or that he was making an agreement with the said Tsoi Heung Po personally, and was informed by the said Tsoi Heung Po deceased that the said agreement was a mere matter of form. Mr. Slade said his Lordship would hear what To Shing had to say about that, having already heard how much interpretation to the agreement To Shing had had. From what had been stated it appeared the draft was never read over to him, and when the agreement was drawn up and completed it was then read over once. "How many Englishmen," asked Counsel, "could understand an English legal document read over to them once?" I believe it is almost impossible for a man, not a lawyer, to follow the meaning and the effect of a legal document read over once to him." To Shing would say that no draft of the agreement was handed to him to settle, and as far as the recitals were concerned he did not know really what their meaning was. (Reading) (9)—The said Chan Yuk Shang and the said Tsoi Heung Po deceased had no authority from the said firm of H. Piry and Company to transfer the ownership of the said steamship from the said firm to the said Tsoi Heung Po deceased. Counsel said he was prepared to prove that and should prove it. The whole matter depended upon the validity of the agreement, and its binding effect depended entirely upon the authority to Chan Yuk Shang to transfer the steamship to his partner, Tse Ching Po. If he had no authority then Tse Ching Po had not title. (Reading) (10)—In the alternative the defendant says that if the legal ownership was transferred by the said agreement to the said Tsoi Heung Po, who had the defendant deny, the said ownership was transferred by way of mortgage only for the sums to be advanced by the said Tsoi Heung Po deceased for the completion of the said steamships and that the said Tsoi Heung Po deceased received far more than the amount advanced by him by the sale of one of the said steamships for the sum of $66,400 as hereinafter mentioned. Proceeding, Counsel said the arrangement made by the firm with Tsoi Heung Po was that he should advance the monies necessary for the completion of the steamships and should have a mortgage upon the vessels as security for the repayment of those sums. But he went behind the backs of the parties, and took the agreement in his own name as being the owner of the vessels. It was admitted by Piry and Co. that they knew of the agreement a very few days after it had been put through, but they did not imagine that Tsoi Heung Po would play them false.

His Lordship pointed out that the difficulty to be overcome by Mr. Slade was that the action was not between Piry and Tsoi Heung Po, although, as between the two, he might argue one was acting as principal for the work and held the ship in trust for the firm. But the action was between the representative of the deceased man and the shipbuilder making an agreement with him.

Mr. Slade maintained it was not a question of claim, but one of property, and he intended proving that the vessel belonged to Piry and Co. and never became the property of Tsoi Heung Po, who was agent for the firm.

A lengthy legal argument then ensued regarding the point, Mr. Slade maintaining that an undisclosed principal as soon as he disclosed himself could sue and enforce his rights. The Hon. Pollock denied that the launches were, in any sense, the property of Piry and Co., and even though agreements could prove up to the hilt that they were it was no defence to the action as defendant was bound to carry out the contract.

I had a fair chance of doing an extremely good and profitable business with an unlimited capital. Accordingly he took three Chinese into partnership. They had previously worked with him having been partners in the shipping business subsequently. Mr. Henry Piry ordered the two small steamships—for they were much larger than launches—to be built for the firm for the express purpose of carrying opium from Hongkong to Kwanhouan. The vessels were of shallow draught, with no hurricane deck, and capable of plying upon the open sea. Mr. Piry then went to Kwanhouan; leaving instructions with two of his partners and, in July, Mr. S. D. Piry came to Hongkong from Shanghai where he had been engaged as private secretary to the then Commissioner for Foreign Affairs or Commerce, who had been the tual, and who was Tsoi H. ung Po's brother. Upon arriving in Hongkong, Mr. Piry suggested it was unsatisfactory going on with the launches with an any written agreement between the partners, so that one was subsequently drawn up and signed, while proper balance sheets and a report on the business were prepared. Among the assets of the shipping company the two steamers in course of construction, for which advances had been made amounting to $50,000, were mentioned, thus showing that they were owned by the firm. Later on, it was found the firm had undertaken more work than could be accomplished with their capital, and in order to raise additional funds it became necessary to mortgage one of the steamers. Accordingly, a mortgage for $15,000 was effected upon the larger of the two ships with the firm of Ming Tak. Of this sum, $5,500 was used for paying the builder of the ships, and the remainder was used, as far as could be traced, for the general purposes of Piry and Co.'s business. But they continued to be pressed for money, and the partners were urged to put more capital into the concern to enable it to be carried on. About this time it appears they had considerable trouble with Chan Yuk Shang. Some time in August or September he removed all the books of the firm—including a partnership deed and Mr. Henry Piry's copy of the present memorandum—out of the office. Mr. Henry Piry then revoked Chua Yuk Shang's power of attorney, and told him he would not have him as manager of the firm any longer. Before that revocation, however, Chan Yuk Shang, on the 3rd September, 1901, had written to To Shing telling him to transfer the vessels out of his own name into the name of Piry and Co., in the books of the Harbour Office. Counsel then proceeded to deal with the further facts of the case, and after the adjournment dealt at great length on the legal aspect of the question involved.

The case was again adjourned.

TELEGRAMS.

THE CRISIS.

DISSOLUTION OF THE DIET.

A telegram has been received in the Colony to the effect that the Japanese National Diet, which assembled at Tokio, yesterday, has been dissolved.

In this connection, it is interesting to read what an Osaka journal wrote, in a somewhat prophetic strain, quite recently. The Asahi says that Kim Giok-kin, a Korean refugee, was stabbed to death at Chofoo a short time prior to the declaration of war against China, and the Diet was dissolved. The war followed these events. Now U Han-zen has been assassinated and if the coming session of the Diet should be dissolved there will be a repetition of the course of events of a few years ago.

Russia and Japan—Peaceful Prospects.

LONDON, 9th December. The rumours impending the Russo-Japanese settlement are daily becoming more persistent and precise. The Associated Press of New York publishes a circumstantial telegram from St. Petersburg stating that, as a result of the Tsar's action, Russia's reply makes only minor modifications of Japan's proposals which, if accepted, Russia will acknowledge Japan's right to a protectorate of Korea while making reservations regarding naval stations and fortifications threatening the sea communications of Port Arthur and Vladivostok. Russian concessions for freedom of trade in Korea will be guaranteed and the question of the evacuation of Manchuria left in abeyance.

LATER.

British North Borneo.

Sir Charles Jessel presided at the North Borneo dinner in London. A distinguished company was present. Mr. Cowie welcomed Chinese immigration to Borneo and defended the policy of railway extension which had already stimulated industry to a remarkable extent. He ridiculed the assertion that the North Borneo Company was anxious to tempt Great Britain to buy the colony and hoped shortly to announce that arrangements had been made to work coal, iron and manganese on a large scale.

The Italian Budget.

The Italian Budget statement is likely to show an extremely favourable state of the country's finances and a surplus of six million lire is anticipated.

Turkey and Bulgaria.

It is reported in Constantinople that Bulgarian bands have crossed the frontier at Adrianople near Dervish-tepe and attacked the Turkish forts. They were repulsed with loss.

The Late Bishop Anzer.

BERLIN, Nov. 30th.

The reports that the sudden death of Dr. Anzer, Bishop of Shantung, was caused by the unfavourable reception accorded him by the Pope are declared to be absurd.

On the contrary, the Bishop was most cordially received both by the Pope, the Papal Secretary, and the chief of the Propaganda. The appointment of a Bishop to succeed Dr. Anzer at Shantung is regarded as a difficult matter.

HUGE GRAVING DOCK

FOR COLOMBO.

It is reported that initial steps are being taken towards the construction of a huge graving dock for cleaning and repairing the largest merchant and war ships ever likely to visit Colombo; indeed, it is claimed that the dock, when completed, will be the finest and largest in Asia, hardly too much to say that it will challenge comparison with any of the dry docks available for the use of His Majesty's navy. Sir West compared it to an advantage with those at Hongkong, Singapore and Bombay. But of course the new works at Bombay will again eclipse that, notwithstanding that all Colombo's modern works have been generously conceived and promptly and energetically carried out.

A STEAMER DIRECTOR AND BRITISH SHIPPING.

AN APPEAL FOR PROTECTION.

Mr. Anderson, one of the directors of the Orient Steam Navigation Company, presided on the 5th Nov. at an electioneering meeting at Aldenburgh in favour of the candidature of Mr. Pretymann, the newly-appointed Financial Secretary to the Admiralty. Speaking on the occasion, Mr. Anderson mentioned that Professor Fawcett, the economist, had told him that he did not regard free-trade as a fetish, and that he favoured "bitting" back if hit, and if bitting back could be done without harming ourselves. Applying this argument to British shipping, Mr. Anderson remarked that all flags participated in our coastal trade, but America and Russia both excluded us from theirs. The United States even went so far as to interpret such exclusion as covering the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard, from New York to San Francisco. Great Britain, continued Mr. Anderson, ought to put herself in a position to declare that a voyage from London to Melbourne or Hongkong was a coastal voyage in order to secure fair terms from competitors who excluded us.

MACAO NOTES.

(From Our Correspondent.)

MACAO, 10th December. NEW SCHOOL FOR GIRLS. The College of Santa Rosa de Lima for girls, under the charge of the Society of the Missionaries of Maria, was opened on the 1st inst. About a fortnight before their arrival from Europe for the school some Sisters of this Order, two of whom were Portuguese, two Italians, one French and one English. The inaugural ceremony was presided over by the Bishop, who delivered an excellent speech. His Excellency the Governor also spoke and was followed by Mr. A. J. Basto, as president of the Association for the Promotion of Education of the Macanenses. He congratulated His Lordship upon the inauguration of the school for girls, and, proceeding with the speech, he dwelt on the influence of women in society. The speaker said that as school makes the man, and man society, His Lordship had done well, at the commencement of his government, in reconstructing, so to speak, the basis of the future social condition of Macao, by educating the weaker sex. He thanked His Lordship for the important improvement that had been introduced into the colony and welcomed the Sisters into whose charge he gave over one of his daughters to be brought up as a boarder.

DEPARTURE OF THE GOVERNOR.

The Governor leaves to-morrow with all his family for Lisbon, the government being taken over by the Administrative Council, of whom the Bishop is the president; the other members are the judge, a military officer and the colonial secretary who, in his acting capacity, has, however, no vote. The acting colonial secretaryship will be assumed by the crown advocate.

THE PORTUGUESE MINISTER.

Senhor José d'Azevedo Castello Branco, Portuguese Minister Plenipotentiary for China and Siam, is expected here next week.

CH-RI-TABLE JAZ-AR.

On the 16th and 27th inst. a grand bazaar will be held in aid of the orphans and destitutes under the care of the Canossian Sisters of Charity, Mr. A. Basto, Jr., hon. secretary to the committee, initiated this charitable fete. Associated with the committee are the leading ladies and gentlemen in the colony.

CANTON NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CANTON, 10th December. IMPROVEMENTS IN CANTON. We are to have something new in Canton. For some time the officials have been discussing the advantages of having the different yamens connected more closely than at present. The result is that in a short time all the principal yamens will be connected by telephone. Many of the poles are already up and the work is being pushed forward. The yamens will be a decided advantage to the officials.

THE VICEROY.

Some days ago I reported the Viceroy as fully recovered from his late illness. Perhaps this is stating the matter rather too strongly. The Viceroy is reported much better and able to attend to considerable business, but he is not yet robust. In fact it is said that his health is considerably impaired. Yesterday he paid several friendly visits to some of his friends in the city.

THE RAILWAY.

Work is soon to begin on the main line of the Hankow-Canton railway. The terminus of this line will be across the river from the Fat-shan end. Some of the Kowloon ferries have been brought up and may be used here. The Guiding Star has been lying off Shameen for some days.

ROPE FOR THE ORIENT.

Mr. H. B. Miller, U. S. Consul-General at Newchwang, believes he has discovered an opening for a very large trade in American rope. He thinks that the superior quality and longer life of the American article will appeal to the Chinese, and he asks the American manufacturers to send him samples and prices. He says if this is done he will call the attention of Chinese shippers to the desirability of buying the American article.

Mr. Miller says that there were 20,000 Chinese junks registered at Newchwang last year. This is only a very small percentage of the number in China. In this section all of these junks use sails made of American cotton goods. An effort is being made to furnish the rope for them from the United States. The rope used thus far was made from hemp raised in Manchuria. It is badly made, is quite inferior and does not wear well—usually one season.

The sea-going junks use great quantities of rope, especially of large sizes, instead of anchor chains. This is made from some of the palms raised in Southern China, and the manufacturing of the rope is done also in the South by the men who navigate the boats. Inquiries there as to the cost of it will show the possibilities of competition for that trade. The fact that considerable quantities of American rope are being ordered for Manchuria—some for Chinese junks—indicates the possibilities of a trade in this line. If sales can be established throughout North China they may grow to wonderful proportions, for the amounts used and the number of boats are surprisingly large.

Manila ropes have been tried in this climate, but the extreme dryness of the air during the fall, winter and spring, covering so long a period, shrinks and breaks the fiber, and makes it worthless. Gunboats going into winter quarters here have found all of their ropes worthless in the spring and unable to bear any strain. The sea-going junks use the large rope made of a species of palm, and the junk men take these ropes and work them over every two years.

The river junks here use hemp ropes varying in size from one-fourth of an inch to one inch in diameter. The price is 23 cents Mexican (9.6 cents) per catty (1.13 pounds). They also use a jute rope, mostly 1 1/2 inches in diameter, for their anchor ropes; this sells for 11 cents Mexican (5.4 cents) per catty.

MONGOLIAN IMMIGRATION.

The twenty-third annual convention of the American Federation of Labour, which was opened in Boston city on the 9th ult., and which was to continue probably for at least fourteen days, got into working order before an adjournment was taken late the same afternoon. President Samuel Gompers delivered his annual address to the delegates, and Secretary Frank Morrison and Treasurer John B. Lennon presented their annual statements. About 450 delegates were present when the session was called to order.

Discussing "Mongolian Immigration," President Gompers said:

Efforts have been made to make it appear that Chinese are necessary to the industry of the American possessions. That this claim is unfounded is demonstrated not only by the investigation made by the representative of the American Federation of Labour sent to Hawaii, China, Japan and the Philippines, but it is borne out by the estimates of native and American workmen to the effect that there are sufficient numbers of men to perform all the work and all the kinds of work which now or which may in the near future be required; that, as a matter of fact, in the Philippines there are more half-breed Chinamen than is good for either the industrial development of the islands or for the economic, social and political interests of the Philippine people. In Hawaii the Japanese have invaded every industry and calling and here as well as in several sections of the mainland of the United States have become and are a growing menace to the well-being of our people. From every section comes the complaint and the warning that unrestricted Japanese immigration is as grave a danger to-day as was at any time in our history the unrestricted immigration of Chinese. The convention should emphatically declare its position upon the immigration question, not only from continental Europe, but from China and Japan, into the mainland and the insular possessions of the United States. I would recommend that the appointment of a special committee be authorized early in our session to hold meetings, during our convention and report thereon fully before its close.

CONDITIONS IN PHILIPPINES.

From the reports which reach us of the labour conditions in the Philippines and our own knowledge of the Chinese in our own and other countries, we have the right to and will dissent from Governor Taft's suggestion that any Chinese be admitted to the islands under any conditions. We cannot, however, but commend the very enlightened view he takes in his opposition to the general admission of Chinese, and also to the views he expresses on the labour movement.

Referring to anti-trust agitation, Gompers made the following remarks:

Attention has been called to the fact that under the guise of so-called anti-trust laws lay the hidden purpose to attack the organizations of labour. We are all familiar with the so-called Sherman anti-trust law, and we are also aware of the fact that under its provisions the only persons ever indicted were a number of workmen who sought to protect their interests against an opponent, and that under the pretense of its provisions and the so-called interstate commerce law the Federal courts have issued the many injunctions enjoining workmen from doing those things for which there is absolutely no prohibition in the laws, and the doing of which is in no wise at variance or in conflict with the constitution or any of the laws of our country. It is because we have detected in the various proposed bills ostensibly to restrict or govern the trusts and other corporations of capital the insidious purpose to attack the trade unions, which, by the way, have no semblance to the trusts, that we have urged in all measures of this character the following clause:

"Nothing herein shall be so construed as to apply to the organizations of wage earners having for their object the regulation of wages, hours and conditions of employment."

With one exception, this proposed clause has always disclosed the real purpose which the proposers had in introducing their so-called anti-trust bills both in the Federal Congress and State Legislatures; for whenever this exempting clause was submitted the proposers were unmasked and abandoned their bills. It is worse than folly to join in the hue and cry raised by our opponents and the fanatics for legislative demands ostensibly aimed at combinations of capital, but really directed against organizations of labour.

SHANGHAI SHARE REPORT.

The following résumé of the week's share transactions is from Messrs. J. A. Sullivan and Co.'s report, published on the 5th December.

The varied antagonistic interests of speculators, shown by shorts selling at cheaper rates for futures than are obtainable for cash, tend to stagnate the possibilities of our present market, and render it difficult to give a true gauge of actual values in the absence of cash transactions. During the week this speculative element has been rife and but little interest has been taken in spot shares. London sight is quoted to-day at 2/4. 13/16. Consols £89 1/2. The 3 days' rate for private bills is quoted from Hongkong 7 1/2.

Wharves.—A few cash Shanghai and Hongkong Wharf shares have changed hands at Tls. 212 1/2, Tls. 207 1/2 and Tls. 205. For December sales have been made at Tls. 212 1/2. For January Tls. 207 1/2 is reported. Kowloons have risen to $90 in Hongkong.

Shipping.—Ships in Indos alone maintain the present values. For cash sales at Tls. 54 1/2, Tls. 56, Tls. 53 1/2, Tls. 56 are published. For December Tls. 55 1/2 has been freely given, but there are sellers to-day at the last rate. For March a big business has been freely given, but there are sellers to-day at the last rate. For March a big business has been done at Tls. 54 1/2, 55 1/2 and shares are still wanted. Shells have been sold at £1.33 for March. Tug and Lighters have changed hands at Tls. 47 1/2 for "preference." There has been nothing done in "ordinary" shares. Taku Tugs have been sold in the North at Tls. 36 and are offering.

Docks.—Farnham Boyds have been in steady demand at Tls. 126, Tls. 129, 128 for cash. For the annual settlement Tls. 126, Tls. 130, Tls. 128 1/2, 127 1/2 are reported. February at Tls. 127. March shares have been favoured at Tls. 127 1/2, Tls. 130, 131, 128, Tls. 129, Tls. 127, 128, April at Tls. 131. Hongkongs fell to $204, but have since recovered in tone.

Lands.—Shanghai has changed ownership at Tls. 104 and are wanted. There is no change in Hongkongs. Humphreys are strong at $11.

Cottons.—Ewos have been sold at Tls. 35. Internationals are in demand. For Laou-Kung-Mows there has been no inquiry.

Sugars.—Peraks continue dull. There have been sales effected in Hongkong of Chinas at $104 and the market closes with buyers.

Mining.—Chinese Engineering and Mining Co. shares are wanted at Tls. 6.

Tobaccos.—Sumatras have been placed at Tls. 54 1/2. In Langkats business has taken place from Tls. 305, Tls. 307 1/2, Tls. 310, 311, Tls. 312 1/2 for cash. For December delivery sales have been recorded at Tls. 308 1/2, 307 1/2, Tls. 312 1/2, Tls. 315, Tls. 316 1/2, 312 1/2, 315, Tls. 316 1/2, Tls. 315 1/2, 312 1/2. March shares have been sold at Tls. 320, Tls. 325, Tls. 325, 330, 327 1/2, Tls. 327 1/2, 328. For May Tls. 335, 330. The fortnightly returns give the following output; the daily out-put 64,000 galls, petroleum in tanks 250,000 galls. Kerosene made 63,000 cases, shipped 54,000 and in stock 65,000 cases.

HEMP AND SUGAR.

Writing under date Manila, 30th ult., Messrs. Warner, Barnes & Co., Ltd., state:—HEMP.—Since our last issue U. K. market has continued very firm with upward tendency and this, although U. S. continues depressed, has had the effect of enhancing local values materially. Dealers have still further contracted to arrive and there is consequently very little free hemp available for some time.

We quote fair current with buyers and no sellers at $22.50 per picul, equal at exchange 1/9 1/2 to £37. 6. 3 per ton f. o. b.

SUGAR.—Manila.—Nominal, nothing offering. Taal: No crop.

Iloilo: Our quotation for Superior Iloilo U. A. is purely nominal at $4.37 1/2 per picul, with a strong upward tendency and no sellers. Dealers will not sell or contract at present preferring to store in anticipation of an advance.

Above quotation at 6 m/s exchange 1/9 1/2 is equal to £6. 17. 0 per ton f. o. b.
